THE THACKERAY SKETCH BOOK.

Now ready, a NEW EDITION of

THACKERAYANA:

NOTES AND ANECDOTES.

Illustrated by a profusion of Sketches by WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY, depicting Humorous Incidents in his School-life, and favourite Characters in the books of his everyday reading. Large post 8vo, with Five Coloured Plates and Hundreds of Wood Engravings from Mr. Thackeray's Original Drawings, cloth, full gilt, gilt top, 12s. 6d.

G. A. SALA, in the Illustrated London News.

"An exceedingly curious and valuable volume, the diverting pages of which are adorned by some six hundred engraved facsimiles of the little caricature sketches which the illustrious author of 'Vanity Fair' was perpetually scribbling in the margins of books, and on every scrap of paper which came in his way, and which these eyes have witnessed him scribbling scores of times."

Daily News.

"Anyone who would know the extraordinary fertility of Thackeray's genius in the way of comic pictorial art should look over the volume entitled 'Thackerayana.' Some of the sketches in this volume are so excellent as to create some wonder why Thackeray was not still more successful in the same walk. Thackeray saw a good deal of the world, and he seized the salient points of nationality with infinite drollery and truth. Many of the sketches remind us of the strange pictorial puns which Thomas Hood used to amuse the town in days when Thackeray was still quite young. But the author of 'Vanity Fair' had a more artistic sense than the admirable poet and humourist to whom we have alluded. As a draughtsman, he had more skill, more varied power, more grace, and a wider knowledge of character."

Scotsman.

"The book is light and yet substantial; it has that Thackerayan twang about it which is eminently satisfying to the mind, and at the same time thoroughly amusing. The book is made up of sketches by Thackeray, drawn at various times. It would be difficult to imagine anything more humorous than these; they seem to cast a new light upon old works, and to bring out more strongly that which is humorous in them. Most of these little sketches are intensely funny. Good series has been done by the publication of this volume. It seems to reveal even greater possibilities in Thackeray's character than most of his previously published works have done."

Graphic.

"The world would lose sight altogether of one important side of Thackeray's many-sided genius if it failed to study him as a draughtsman no less than as an essayist and novelist. And here in 'Thackerayana' is the very material from which to form the truest estimate of his powers. Thackeray, according to the rules of art, was but an indifferent sketcher. But in his own pages of odd little volumes and his own swift thoughts by a few pencil strokes hardly less swift, Thackeray was worth a dozen better draughtsmen—and it is some of this work of his we get here; little marginal comments on his own or others' writings, each the embodiment in grotesque outline of some sly bit of criticism and humour. The letterpress, too—the running comments on Thackeray's life-history, the extracts that gave birth to the illustrations, often as racy as the sketches themselves—is very cleverly put together."

Leeds Mercury.

"The book has originated from the discovery, when Thackeray's library was sold in 1864, that 'on the pages of odd little volumes and on the margins and fly-leaves of some of the choicest works, pencil, or pen-and-ink sketches, of faithful conceptions suggested by the text, touched in most cases with remarkable neatness and decision, were found abundantly dispersed.' Most of these are the illustrations of his own swift thoughts by a few pencil strokes hardly less swift, Thackeray was worth a dozen better draughtsmen—and it is some of this work of his we get here; little marginal comments on his own or others' writings, each the embodiment in grotesque outline of some sly bit of criticism and humour. The letterpress, too—the running comments on Thackeray's life-history, the extracts that gave birth to the illustrations, often as racy as the sketches themselves—is very cleverly put together."

Echo.

"Prudent persons enjoying the acquaintance of William Makepeace Thackeray invariably annexed every scrap of paper in his vicinity, in the hope of possessing a sketch from his ever-active pencil. The present volume owes its origin not only to this habit on the part of his friends, but to the fact that many of the books in the valuable library dispersed at the death of this lamented writer contained sketches of himself. Some of these books fell into careful hands. The value of such pictorial comments on the text was instantly recognised, consisting as it does not alone in the cleverness of the drawings themselves, but in the testimony they bear to the interest taken by the gifted writer in particular passages of the works in his possession; and means were taken to obtain many more of these mementoes. Early friends of the great novelist seconded the efforts of the collectors, and the result of their industry appears in the delightful miscellany now offered to the public, which consists partly of biography and partly of extracts from Thackeray's favourite authors, copiously adorned with his own quaint pencilings."

Pictorial World.

"The most amusing volume called 'Thackerayana' contains a large selection of the great satirist's sketches—nearly 600, indeed. They depict, as the title-page informs us, 'humorous incidents in his school life, and favourite scenes and characters in his every-day reading.' Some have been taken from book margins, many from vignettes never intended for the light, others, again, from odds and ends of manuscript. Altogether the book is one to lay on the drawing-room table for the unexpected visitor to take up and laugh over."

CHATTO & WINDUS, PICCADILLY, W.

Crown 8vo, cloth, full gilt, with Photographic Frontispiece, price 10s. 6d.

THE BRIC-A-BRAC HUNTER;

Or, CHAPTERS ON CHINAMANIA.

By Major H. BYNG HALL.

"This volume will be welcomed by a tolerably large class, who not only like to read anecdotes connected with their favourite occupation, but desire hints such as only an experienced collector is able to give them. The book is lively and entertaining, and its gossip, good-humoured style is admirably adapted to the subject."—Globe.

MR. SWINBURNE'S NEW WORK.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, price 12s.

ESSAYS AND STUDIES.

By ALGERNON CHARLES SWINBURNE.

"Contains much that is new, stimulating, and attractive—for mere richness of expression, in spite of every fault, a thing unique in English. Mr. Swinburne's Essays must increase his reputation for unusual knowledge, for eloquence, for catholic sympathy."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"A volume of subtle explanation and analysis, displaying as strongly as Mr. Swinburne's poems his mastery of language and his power of perception. The style is such as few Englishmen have ever reached, and the whole volume is a contribution to literature."—Athenaeum.

Post 8vo, cloth extra, price 9s.

THE LIFE AND CAMPAIGNS OF GENERAL ROBERT LEE.

By his Nephew, EDWARD LEE CHILDE.

With Steel-plate Portrait by JENES, and a Map.

"A work that deserves the most careful attention.... Mr. Lee Childe has given us a very valuable book."—Scotsman.

Second Edition now ready, crown 8vo, cloth extra, price 5s.

THE OUTCAST.

BY THE LATE WINWOOD READE.

"A work of very considerable power, written with great pathos and vivid earnestness."—Athenaeum.

"He relaxed his mind in his leisure hours by the creation of a new religion."—Standard.

"A book well worth reading, especially for its practical lessons. It is evidently drawn from real life."—Westminster Review.

MISS FLORENCE MARRYAT'S NEW NOVEL.

OPEN! SESAME!

Is now ready, in 3 vols. crown 8vo, at all the Libraries.

"A story which arouses and sustains the reader's interest to a higher degree than, perhaps, any of its author's former works..... A very excellent story."—Graphic.

THE LAW AND THE LADY,

By WILKIE COLLINS.

Is now ready at all the Libraries, in 3 vols. crown 8vo.

"Edwin. Read any novels lately?—Angelina. Just read an awfully nice book, 'The Law and the Lady.' One of the heroes is a monstrous without legs, 'Miscreant Dexter,' don't you know. Awfully clever.—Edwin. O yes. Read the book myself. Clever notion, the idiotic man-woman, eh, wasn't it?—Angelina. O yes, awfully good."—Funch.

NEW AND POPULAR EDITION.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, price 6s.

PATRICIA KEMBALL,

By E. LYNN LINTON.

"A very clever and well-constructed story, original and striking, and interesting all through..... A novel abounding in thought and power and interest."—Times.

HOW TO SELECT AN OFFICE FOR LIFE ASSURANCE.

EXTRACT FROM THE BOARD OF TRADE'S REPORT, July 2, 1874.

"Taking insurance business as it exists in this country, the public cannot be misled if, when seeking an office in which to effect an insurance, they select one which transacts its business at a small per-centage of working cost, and does not anticipate its profits."

THESE TESTS ARE ENTIRELY FULFILLED BY

THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY,

CACAOINE. (REGISTERED.)

Cacaoine is a preparation of Cacao without sugar or any admixture whatever.

Cacaoine is very acceptable as a light refreshing drink for use in the later hours of the day. With Homoeopaths it takes the place of Tea, having very little consistence—not more than that of Coffee.

Cacaoine, to those who have been in the habit of using Cacao Nibs, has proved a great boon, as it does away with all the trouble attending the preparation of Nibs—Cacaoine itself being nothing more than very choice Nibs that have been submitted to a very ingenious patented process, by which the principal part of the oil has been removed. This scientific removal of the oil renders the beverage preparable from Cacaoine incomparably more delicate and attractive than any that the crude Nibs afford, besides that Cacaoine requires but to be boiled for a few minutes to be ready for the table.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Four half-a-pint of boiling water on a piled tea-spoonful of the Cacaoine, and then boil ten minutes or so in a Cacaotiere—a vessel which needs no superintendence, as the contained liquid cannot boil over.

Prepared only in Packets and Tins, labelled

JAMES EPPS & CO.,
HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
45 Threadneedle Street, and 170 Piccadilly.

* Cacaotieres—for ½ pint, 1s.; 1 pint, 1s. 3d.; 2 pints, 1s. 9d.

In consequence of Spurious Imitations of LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE,

which are calculated to deceive the Public,
LEA & PERRINS have adopted

A NEW LABEL,
bearing their Signature, thus:—

LOAN EXHIBITION of SCIENTIFIC

APPARATUS

AT THE SOUTH KENSINGTON MUSEUM.

The Exhibition will OPEN on APRIL 1, 1876, and will remain open until the end of September, after which time the objects will be returned to the owners.

It will consist of instruments and apparatus employed for research and other scientific purposes, and for teaching. It will also include apparatus illustrative of the progress of science, and its application to the Arts, as well as such as may possess special interest on account of the persons by whom, or the investigations in which, it had been employed. The precise limits will be found further detailed under the several sections in which the syllabus has been arranged for convenience, and for the information of exhibitors, rather than as a matter of scientific classification. Models, drawings, or photographs will also be admissible where the originals cannot be sent. And the apparatus may, in certain cases, be arranged in train as used for typical investigations.

The syllabus and the forms on which to enter descriptions of objects offered for exhibition may be obtained on application to the Director of the South Kensington Museum, London, S.W. These forms should be filled up and returned as soon as possible, so that exhibitors may receive early intimation as to the admissibility of the objects they propose to send.

Whilst every care is taken of objects lent for exhibition, the Science and Art Department cannot be responsible for loss or damage.

The committees will have the right of rejecting any object that it may be thought inadvisable to exhibit.

The cost of carriage of all objects selected for exhibition will be defrayed by the Science and Art Department.

It is hoped that institutions or individuals having instruments of historic interest will be good enough to lend them.

By order of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education.

Author of "East Lynne," "The Channings," &c.
3 vols. crown 8vo.

COMIN' THRO' THE RYE.

In 3 vols. crown 8vo.

"There is a great deal of power in 'Comin' thro' the Rye.' There is originality in the tragic plot, and an unceasing current of rollicking fun which saves the tragedy from becoming sombre."—Athenaeum.
"The story is told with much, but very unequal skill and power. It is a clever novel, never dull, and never hangs fire."—Standard.

LOVING and LOTH.

By the Author of "Rosa Noel," "The Sisters Lawless," &c.
In 3 vols. crown 8vo.

A LOSING HAZARD.

By COURTENEY GRANT,
Author of "Little Lady Lorraine," &c. In 2 vols. cr. 8vo.
** See Review of this Work in the Spectator of July 3, 1875.
"This is in some respects a peculiar novel. There is much freshness and vigour about it. The scene is laid in Holland, and the provincial fites, the racing, skating, and sleigh matches are prettily and graphically described."—Fall Hall Gazette.
"The scene of this tale is laid in Holland, and the book contains some very good descriptions of Dutch life and landscape. The story keeps up the reader's interest throughout."—Standard.
"There is something quaint and pleasant in the outset of 'A Losing Hazard.' The author has a distinct power of appreciating the higher order of feminine character, and Fräulein Lisa is a pretty sketch."—Athenaeum.

NOTICE.—The FIFTH EDITION of Mr. WILLIAM BLACK'S NEW NOVEL is now ready.

THREE FEATHERS.

By WILLIAM BLACK,

Author of "A Daughter of Heth," "A Princess of Thule," &c.

3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.

Fifth Edition, now ready.

The SATURDAY REVIEW of May 29 says:—

"It is pleasant to find that there is no such fault to be found in the 'Three Feathers.' In this book, as in the former one, there is lively incident, true insight into character, a soft pleasant humour, and over all the rare charm of a style clear, strong, and sunny as a mountain stream. A girl's character is, as before, the most attractive in the romance; and the idea of Wenna Rosewarne left upon the mind at the conclusion of the book makes one long to meet her in actual life. ... It remains to add, that the characters are consistently kept up from beginning to end, that the interest never flags, and that the descriptions of scenery, which are never obtrusively put forward, are as true and poetical in this novel as they were in the 'Princess of Thule.' ... Not the least happy thing in the novel is the changing and softening of Harry Trevelyan's character under Wenna's influence, which is pictured in a delicate and masterly manner. The minor personages are as life-like as the more important ones, and in many of them, as in General Weekes, there are touches of unaffected humour, which come in with pleasant effect. One leaves the 'Three Feathers' with real regret."

NOTICE.—Now ready, the FIFTH EDITION of Mr. R. D. BLACKMORE'S NEW NOVEL.

ALICE LORRAINE:

A TALE OF THE SOUTH DOWNS.

By R. D. BLACKMORE,

Author of "Lorna Doone," "The Maid of Sker," &c.

3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.

The SPECTATOR of last Saturday, July 10, says:—

"Mr. Blackmore's hand has not lost its cunning. Since we called upon an indifferent public to recognise the merits of 'Lorna Doone' we know no story which has given us quite the same amount of pleasure as the one before us. ... In the line which he has chosen, or which Nature has chosen for him, Mr. Blackmore stands alone. Slowly, very slowly, 'Lorna Doone' grew into favour. Not until people perceived that it must needs be read as leisurely as it was written did its full worth dawn upon them. ... To one who enters into the spirit of the book there will be scarcely a page which does not afford him pleasure. In the first place, we have what we take to be essential to all healthy life, in books or out of them—a never weary sense of humour. The reader laughs, as he laughed in daily life, not because there is anything so very much to laugh at—the joke won't even bear repeating to his half-irritated companion, who wonders what in the world he is laughing at. ... Mr. Blackmore understands Nature as one who loves and holds constant communion with her can alone understand, and the relation is not that of disciple, but of lover. ... Those who can appreciate Mr. Blackmore's writing enjoy it, and who certainly secure this his last, we are half-inclined (in spite of our old weakness for 'Lorna Doone') to think, his best work, as a pleasant addition to their holiday library."

NEW WORK BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE GREAT LONE LAND."

AKIM-FOO:

THE HISTORY OF A FAILURE.

By Major W. F. BUTLER, C.B.,

Author of "The Great Lone Land," "The Wild North Land," &c.

1 vol. demy 8vo, with a new Map of his Route across the Akim Country to Coomassie, and Frontispiece,

Price 14s.

[Now ready.]

"We strongly recommend our readers to peruse the work before us. ... To our mind 'Akim-foo' is the best of the literary results of our last little war."—Athenaeum.

"These anticipations are fully justified by the result. 'Akim-foo' is as fascinating a piece of literary workmanship as either of the previous works by its author."—Daily News.

NOTICE.—Now ready, a NOVEL by the late C. WELSH-MASON, B.A. Camb., entitled,

THE RAPE OF THE GAMP.

ARVAN; or, THE STORY OF A SWORD.

A Poem.

Crown 8vo, price 7s. 6d.

By HERBERT TODD, M.A.

"We found it had a well-sustained interest. He has given us a compact and artistic narrative, and has imaged the vicissitudes of empires, arts, and superstitions, with a breadth of intelligence and confident zeal eminently suited to a time when antiquarian research has obtained many marvellous triumphs. The frame of his imaginary States and Churches is not the less richly mantled with the eternal variety and pathos of private human ties. He has tried a grand experiment in art, and not done slackly the work of the Muses."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Mr. Todd's poem is simple, almost severe, and thoroughly pure in style, tone, and treatment. We have met him before in paths of poetry, but were hardly prepared for an effort so thorough and so sustained. The poem has throughout the characteristic of eloquence, and the author greatly rejoices in war pictures which are sometimes given with astonishing power."—Globe.

MOODY AND SANKEY.

AMERICAN ORGANS in every variety of CRAMER'S Manufacture and on CRAMER'S Three Years System.

Prices from 15 Guineas, or £1 11s. 6d. a Quarter.

CRAMER and Co. by no means wish it to be understood, as in some quarters it would seem to have been, that their AMERICAN ORGANS are used by Messrs. Moody and Sankey at their interesting meetings.

CRAMER'S instruments are much more solid in manufacture, and infinitely superior in quality of tone, and are certainly not open to the objection made by perhaps the most influential literary and musical journal to the imported organs:—

"Judged from the artistic point of view, the instrument is no more agreeable to the ear than is the stentorian power displayed by the singer."

Moreover, while CRAMER'S AMERICAN ORGANS are more satisfactorily made, and better finished in all respects, they are sold at prices varying from 15 to 25 per cent. below those of all imported instruments.

These, and all other instruments of CRAMER'S manufacture, can be had on the three years system, which, originated by CRAMER'S, has been partially adopted by other firms, but is carried out on a thoroughly large and liberal scale only by themselves.

A SECOND EDITION OF

CARDINAL WOLSEY

AND THE

LOVES OF THE POETS.

A NEW AND ORIGINAL DRAMATIC POEM.

By WALTER S. RALEIGH;

Beautifully printed on toned paper, price Half-a-Crown;

Together with the Original Epilogue and "Dramatic Contrast" between the leading men of the several Reigns of the First Gloriana and the Second, but without the Dedication.

NOTICE.—In consequence of a communication received from Lieut.-General Sir T. M. Biddulph, the Dedication of this Poem to Her Majesty is withdrawn. When the Author—having endeavoured to represent Anne Boleyn in a character more consonant with the many virtues which even her detractors have admitted she possessed, than that in which she has hitherto been drawn—decided to dedicate his humble effort to the living descendant of that ill-fated Queen (and of her illustrious daughter Elizabeth, the Gloriana of Spenser and Sir Walter Raleigh, and a prototype in many ways of our beloved Sovereign), he was unaware that by so doing he would be offending against the rules of Court etiquette.

He admits, however, that the somewhat unflattering reference to certain of her Ministers in the Epilogue containing the Dedication to herself, made the acceptance of such Dedication by Her Majesty impossible; but he had supposed the avoidance of Her Majesty's name, and the use of a mere poetical appellation would have rendered any acceptance or recognition of the Dedication unnecessary. Finding, however, that he was mistaken, he hopes that the withdrawal of the Dedication, with the issue of the present Edition, will be a sufficient expression of his regret for his unwitting offence.

"This is the title of a new historical drama. It is written in blank verse with considerable metrical skill, and throughout the composition the author gives frequent evidence of poetical fancy and literary instinct in his management of situations and selection of language. Some of the love passages combine tenderness, simplicity, and vivacity in a very charming manner. Mr. Raleigh dedicates his work to her Majesty the Queen in whose honour he writes such a panegyric as might have been looked for from the pen of his namesake, Sir Walter Raleigh, in honour of 'Good Queen Bess.'—Bath Argus."

THOMAS SCOTT, Publisher of the "London Acting Drama," 1 Warwick Court, Holborn, W.C.

NEW WORK ON PORTUGAL.

Just published, 1 vol. demy 8vo, 10s. 6d.

TRAVELS IN PORTUGAL.

By JOHN LATOUCHE.

With Illustrations by the Right Hon. T. SOTHERON ESTCOURT.

"Mr. Latouche's Travels are delightfully written. . . . An unusually observant and kindly traveller, he picks up odds and ends of character, and an ample repertoire of good stories, which he mixes judiciously with the serious and extensive information his work conveys respecting Portugal past and present, its government, politics, natural features, commerce, and national characteristics. . . . The chapters which Mr. Latouche devotes to the fauna and flora of Portugal are charming, and full of the humour which is, though never obtrusive or paraded at the expense of good feeling, always present throughout the book. . . . His book is as fair as it is pleasant, as full of information as it is sparkling with humour, and we think that the majority of his readers will acknowledge that his perusal has taught them not only a great deal that they had not hitherto known about Portugal, but much more than they would have been induced to learn through any less entertaining medium."—Spectator.

"Mr. Latouche's narrative is full of interest and instruction." Nature.
"Mr. Latouche is a keen and close observer. His book is not pretentious, but informative and amusing."—Scotsman.
"The Travels are full of incident, narrated in an easy, unaffected manner."—Bookseller.

"We can speak well of this book, because it is written in good English, and because it gives the cream of all the author could rather, with very little intrusion of self. Mr. Latouche is a kind of traveller, of which we wish there were many more in this country."—Tablet.
"Mr. Latouche has produced a work equally novel in its information, and interesting in its social descriptions."—Nonconformist.
